SULTAN HATED FOR ADOPTING MODERN IDEAS

Nobody knows what the population of Morocco is. Estimates place it all the way from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000. The part of a country is totally unexplored. The French lately have gone in behind Morocco, and they have been there for 20 years to take in the Tust region, a chain of fertile oases through which run the caravan routes. The Sultan has expropriated it and still expostulating, but with no effect. It is called the "Sick Man of the East," and those best informed believe that it is dying.

For some reason Russia is intriguing in Morocco. She has no trade with the country, and no colonies. She has a minister to the Sherifian court, and it is rumored that she wants to get a coaling station on the coast. The United States once asked for a coaling station in Morocco and met with a prompt refusal. The United States has no trade with the Morocco coast, and would not be surprised to find that the Sultan of Morocco could not afford to see Moroccan troops on the frontier and hostile forces in the interior.

IN TRAIN WRECK

Kirkwood Accommodation Was Crashed Into While Standing Still.

STRUCK BY THROUGH TRAIN

BRAKEMAN'S PRESENCE OF MIND PREVENTED A DISASTER.

Engineer Paul Smith of the Through Train Jumped From His Cab and Was Severely Hurt in Fall on Platform.

Fast passenger train No. 8 on the Missouri Pacific Railway ran into the Kirkwood accommodation at Howard Station in the city limits this morning and a hundred or more passengers had a narrow escape from injury.

Only the quick action of a rear brakeman, John R. Goggenbach of the accommodation, saved the lives and prevented a wreck which would have destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property.

The only person who received injuries was Paul Smith, engineer of No. 8. His back was wrenched when he jumped from the cab and he received internal injuries. He was taken to the Missouri Pacific Hospital.

A score or more of passengers of the Kirkwood accommodation, who were in a forward car when No. 8 ran into the rear car, were shaken up, but not badly hurt.

25 MINUTES LATE.

The Kirkwood accommodation was 25 minutes late when it reached Howard Station, about five miles from the Courthouse, at 6:25 this morning.

The accommodation is composed of only three cars and an engine, and it is the duty of its trainmen to keep their train out of the way of the fast passenger trains.

While the accommodation was standing at the station, brakeman John R. Goggenbach, who was standing near the end of the rear coach, caught sight of No. 8 bearing down on the local train at full speed.

Both trains were headed toward the city. No. 8 had just rounded a curve when Goggenbach saw it. He jumped to the platform and yelled to the passengers to get out.

TRIED TO STOP.

The fast passenger train had been only a matter of a mile away when Goggenbach first caught sight of it, and although Smith, engineer, realized the situation as doing his best to stop his heavy engine, the big engine kept on coming at the escaping passengers on accommodation to be a prodigious rate.

When the rear door of the accommodation opened, passengers, who were rapidly getting out, saw the big engine coming at them. They could see the big engine coming at them. They could see the big engine coming at them.

GRATNOT CABANNE USED HIS FISTS

Special Officer Disabled Lloyd T. Moffett.

FOUGHT AT BOARDING HOUSE

MOFFETT WEIGHS ABOUT 140 POUNDS, CABANNE ABOUT 160.

Worsted Man, Who Is Water Department Inspector, Says His Antagonist Kicked Him in the Face—Police Investigate.

DETECTIVE GRATNOT CABANNE.

Battle at the dining table, beginning in a friendly spirit, repaid which grew in bitterness at each meal, finally culminated Sunday afternoon in a fight between C. Gratnot Cabanne and Lloyd T. Moffett on the front porch of their joint boarding house, 118 Wells avenue.

Both young men have rather enviable reputations as amateur exponents of the science of fisticuffs, but there is quite a difference in weight. Moffett weighs under 140 pounds, while Cabanne will go over 160.

"NO CAUSE," SAYS MOFFETT.

Moffett asserts that Cabanne assaulted him without cause, and solely for the reason that the young police officer has "had it in for" him. He declares that after he had been flogged Cabanne kicked him several times.

Although each holds a position under the Democratic administration, there has been constant banter on political questions and other matters of a more personal nature whenever the men sat down to table.

The discussions became more heated each time, and their wives ceased to speak to each other.

Cabanne says that Moffett and he were sitting on the front porch, the former smoking and engaged in an argument. He declares that Moffett called him a liar.

The officer then leaped at Moffett, he says, and struck him a violent blow, which sent Moffett down and out. One blow was enough, he admits, but respecting Moffett's ordinary ability and courage, he struck him three, or possibly, four more blows, putting him out of the contest completely.

Moffett says that he refrained from striking at dinner Sunday because his wife was very ill and he wished to avoid a disturbance of any sort. But when the meal was finished, he walked to the hall, rolling a cigarette, when Cabanne called him, after stepping out of the front door to the porch.

He followed, he says, and then Cabanne commenced a personal discussion.

Moffett says that he at length said, "Why, Gratnot, what are you talking about?" the fight followed immediately. Moffett says.

WIFE SAW THE FRACAS.

He declares that Cabanne hit him a terrific blow in the face, knocking him down and out. He says his wife heard him fall, and ran to the upstairs window, and, looking out, saw Cabanne kick him several times, and that she screamed for him to release her husband. Moffett declares positively that Cabanne kicked him while he was crying for release, and that the worst injuries he suffered were administered by Cabanne's foot. He states that he has tried to keep out of the young officer's way because he knew he was not a match for him.

He went to the Four Courts yesterday afternoon and made application for a warrant against Cabanne, but Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Dalton took the matter under advisement until Capt. McNamara should complete an investigation.

band had been cruel to her and she had left, intending to go back to England.

Among her effects was found a ticket to England, via the steamer Celtic, which sails tomorrow.

Mrs. Jatho is 50 years old. Dr. Nietert this morning refused her repeated request for liquor, giving her only enough to keep her from collapse. He is of the opinion that she must have been taking intoxicants steadily for a long time to reach her present condition.

Among her belongings was a receipt showing that she had been treated by Dr. R. M. Huntington of Hot Springs, Ark. She said her husband was also a patient of this physician, and that anyone who desired to communicate with him could send a message in care of the physician.

The list printed above shows the contents of Mrs. Jatho's pockets and belt.

CABLEGRAM NOT SENT.

A cablegram she had written, but had not sent, was as follows:

"Gladys Watts, Kensington Academy, London, England.—Will sail on the Celtic. Meet me at London street. Georgiana Jatho."

Papers from the law firm of Tyler, Pratt, Hibbard & McAlpine, New York City.

showed that since she had come to this country, Oct. 12 last, she had drawn, through them on the Bank of South Africa, the sum of 48 pounds or about $500.

Mrs. Jatho, in talking to Dr. Nietert, said her home was in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, but she had been in many other parts of the country. She declined to say just what trouble had caused her to leave her husband, but showed no remorse for her act.

Mrs. Jatho says she has relatives in St. Louis and that the name of one of them is Rudolph Jatho, 724 Michigan avenue. Last night a man who said he was a relative and gave the name of Rudolph Jatho came to see her at the hospital, but she was sleeping at the time, and it was thought best not to awaken her.

Mrs. Jatho wants to continue the journey, but she will be detained until she is better able to take care of herself.

MORGAN TO PREACH HERE.

The religious work will be of the same character as that conducted by the Rev. Mr. Morgan last year at Pilgrim Congregational Church and at the Odéon.

Prayer meetings will be held during the week of prayer, beginning Jan. 4. They will be conducted under the auspices of the St. Louis Evangelical Alliance, and some of them will take place at noon in downtown of business.

It is in furtherance of the plan of preparing for the Campbell Morgan revivals that these sessions will be held.

Austrian which is quite a different thing. You may imagine what it was. I was not even allowed to have an opinion. I loved my children, but could not bring them up as I wished.

"Between my husband and myself there was a bond of sympathy. He was a typical rough officer.

"I myself was full of ideas, often wonderful, but dangerous to those who would be so near me I could love were to appear. How miserable that I was, that I was so far from being able at the thought—'I tried so hard to be different; yet for the sake of my darling children' whom I loved so dearly.

"I also hesitated for the sake of the Baxon people, whom I love deeply, as they love me. Yet, then the time came when I found M. Girou and loved him, I felt that I could bear the situation no longer. I fully realized how terrible it would be, the Prince wifeless, my children—here the Princesses' eyes filled with tears—"without their mamma, my people so shocked, and I weighed all the wicked things which would be said of me as they are being said now in the press."

"But all that could not alter my resolution. The life of my life at the court were too great to bear."

"And now?"

"Now," she replied, "I am awaiting developments—waiting to see what will come of this sudden change. Such things must needs be arranged slowly."

"You, of course, are prepared for a divorce?"

Fears Husband Will Not Permit Divorce.

"Naturally my husband is a devout Catholic. He will, I fear, never consent. He will marry again. I am naturally very much put out by this false position in which I am living with M. Girou, but it is not intentional on either of our parts.

"M. Girou would like to make regular our situation by marrying the moment the technicalities of the law admit of it."

"Was your flight necessary?"

"It was," she replied, "or, rather, brought about by a combination of circumstances which made any other course impossible."

"It has been mentioned among many false reports to the effect that you were concerned in my departure. That is absolutely untrue. I made the acquaintance of M. Girou last year. She is a charming girl, but my flight was solely the result of circumstances."

"Is it true that your brother, the Archduke Leopold recently thrashed your husband for violence?"

"No," she replied, "he was reported as having been an accident."

"The princess laughed heartily at this and then said:—

"O, yes, I am sure that she is. I have

THEY PASSED RESOLUTIONS

RECOMMENDED THAT PROPERTY BE BOUGHT AT ONCE.

Members of Merchants' Exchange, Business Men's League, Manufacturers' Association and Mercantile Club Confer.

In the rooms of the Merchants' Exchange, late yesterday afternoon, a conference was held between committees from the Merchants' Exchange, the Business Men's League, the Manufacturers' Association and the Mercantile Club and Postmaster Bartholdt to decide upon recommendations for the branch postoffice site. The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That this meeting recommends the purchase of the site for the proposed new postoffice on the southeast corner of Eighteenth and Walnut streets, and urges the prompt completion of the building.

Resolved, That the meeting considers that the present necessities of business in St. Louis demands the prompt securing of quickened postal facilities through the arrangements proposed by the Terminal Railroad Association.

Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange, Business Men's League, Manufacturers' Association and Mercantile Club appoint committees from each organization to go to Washington and assist Congressman Bartholdt in securing better postal facilities.

Congressman Bartholdt believes the action recommended by the resolution will be taken by the government authorities. An appropriation of $50,000 is available. The lot, 250x250, is held under an option taken by the advice of Supervising Architect Taylor. When this option was obtained $25,000 was the price fixed, so here is $25,000 to be spent for the building. The new branch postoffice is expected to be a handsome building and will be built opposite the Union Station, a block from market street.

Gaseous dyspepsia and nervous indigestion relieved by Sulphogen (anti-ferment).

DEATH WATCH ON DUNN.

Negro Who Killed Peter Jackson Will Be Hanged Friday.

Thomas Dunn, a negro, will be hanged today at the Four Courts. He killed Peter Jackson, a negro comrade, in the main yard nearly a year ago. Sheriff Dickmeyer appointed a death watch today who will guard Dunn until he is executed. The negro has had several trials and his case was decided adversely by the court. Many persons believe he is Jackson in self-defense.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Principal Asset of the Successful Business Man.

and of the largest meat packing industry, never traveled without his everywhere he was accompanied by a medical adviser; he hired him exclusive attendance by the year, ordered the large salary paid for him as a part of his business income. He did not do this because he is pechondriac, in constant fear of death; on the contrary he was a robust man; but he recognized the principal asset in his business was his own person, and to keep physically and mentally strong was a business proposition and simple.

With every business man and a slight cold in the head or a pass off in a few days, or it up into pneumonia, chronic cough, inviting throat trouble; in his departure should be hastened simple antiseptic preparation, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which reached in the mouth and thus reach the germs of Catarrh, Pseudomonas, before they have a chance to propagate and thrive in the mucous membranes of the nose and Adora Signora Eleonora Duse. You've come across from Italy Americans to amuse. And with L'Annunzio's poetry to woo the tragic muse. For what you've shown us of your art We offer thanks profuse. Adora Signora Eleonora Duse.—BUT.

"I am told by Italians born in Italy, who didn't come over in the steerage, that this is the correct way to pronounce the lady's name. It certainly is the easiest and most sensible. However, if you don't like this, you are at liberty to pronounce it any old way you please."

Critics who have seen Signora Eleonora Duse in a great number of plays and have listened to her with ears attuned to the language she speaks have declared that she is a great actress.

Undoubtedly they are correct in their estimate of her, but there was little in the work of Gabrielle d'Annunzio, which she presented last night, to bring this greatness to the front.

It was 20 minutes after 8 o'clock when, without music, the curtain went up on d'Annunzio's "Francesca da Rimini." It was just three hours later to a minute when it fell on the last act. And I'll venture to say a more disappointed audience never left the Century Theater.

Certain at least it is that I never heard so many expressions of dissatisfaction as I heard expressed last night.

While Signora Duse and all the company spoke in Italian, there were very many in the house to whom it was a familiar tongue. In fact, the St. Louis Italian colony was well represented. But only once during the entire three hours was there a bit of real spontaneous applause, and marvelous to relate, that was not brought forth by Signora Duse, but by the young

VENDER OF PENS FELL DEAD ON FLOOR.

HAD ASKED FOR MEDICINE

F. D. Chamberlain Is Supposed to Be the Dead Man's Name, From a Card.

A seller of fountain pens, supposed to be F. D. Chamberlain, dropped dead at midnight, in Ender's drug store, Sixth and Chestnut streets, where he had gone to get medicine for hiccoughs, with which he had been suffering for several days.

It is believed the cause of his death was heart disease superinduced by hiccoughs.

Clerk William Wendroth was preparing medicine for him, and several persons waiting for cars were in the store at the time. Patrolman Flanagan called an ambulance, but the man died almost as soon as he reached the City Dispensary. The only card to his identity, the name F. D. Chamberlain on a card.

long range. At times, when we expected the Duse to get up and do something to show us some of that power which we have all been led to believe she possesses, she failed to respond, and the audience, which had keyed itself up to a high pitch of expectancy, sank back, disappointed, into its chairs.

If this is the sort of thing that the senora has bound herself by contract to produce the rest of her natural life, she will certainly lose her reputation as a great actress.

And still, I do not think that d'Annunzio is all to blame. I have read with care his version of Francesca, and while it can readily be seen by any one familiar with a play that there are entirely too many words to make a snap shot of "business," that it properly put in would keep things going.

Take for example the scene in the tower. If all the "business" written in by the author were put in the play, it would have a lot of action, and the particular place where Francesca repeats the Lord's prayer while Paolo shoots holes through his enemy's head even partakes of the melodrama.

But would any one who saw last night's production dare say there was ought in it, which partook of anything so interesting as melodrama? Perish the suggestion.

Last night's production aimed at the so-called high art of the stage. The atmosphere fairly reeked with this idea from the time the curtain went up without an orchestra till the very last. The single settings were in the highest degree of art. The color schemes for each setting were absolutely perfect. The persons themselves and the gowns worn by the women fitted absolutely into the same atmosphere and the acting of the star was of the same variety.

Possibly the audience at the Century wasn't educated up to this sort of thing at any time it was not very pleased, and this was not because it did not understand the spoken word.

We have seen a St. Louis audience go into raptures over Mme. Bernhardt when even a smaller proportion of the audience understood what was being said on the stage. The lack of enthusiasm last night was due to the play and to the lack of sympathy found in Signora Duse.

Signora Duse has undoubtedly been an attractive woman. Last night she looked much too old for the part. Her wealth of auburn hair was the only feature that seemed to indicate that she would inspire passion in the heart of any man. When she speaks she has a thin, high tone that is perfectly pleasing, although it is perfectly modulated and her enunciation is wonderful. Not the slightest sound that escapes from her lips is inaudible in the farthest part of the house.

But she impressed me last night as being woefully lacking in personal magnetism. The audience never warmed to her. It seemed interested in her in any other curio. No one in the audience wished to leave until the play was finished, and still, even between the acts, they voiced their dissatisfaction and disappointment. It was a peculiar condition.

What is true of Duse is to a large extent true of her entire company. With the exception of Carl Rosapina, the classical actor, and Guglielmina Galini, the young woman who played the younger brother, they all seemed to have been trained in the same school. All seemed afraid to walk faster than the slowest tread and all had a habit of retiring into a corner and sitting down just at a time when we expected them to get up and do things.

To Americans it was certainly a wonderful exhibition. But the most of those present last night regret that Signora Duse did not elect to present more than one play in St. Louis, or failing in that, that she did not choose something different. The impression she gave most of those present was that she proposed to do just as little work as possible and Francesca gives her that opportunity.

Ned Wayburn's Jockey Club is featured as the headliner at the Columbia this week and in many respects is entitled to its distinction but the sketch by Eugene O'Rourke & Co. is probably the best thing on the Columbia's program this week.

The sketch, first of all, is a good one, but the merit of the act is in the manner in which it is produced. Bourke is, in the sketch, a typical traveling man—I don't know but he is out of the sketch. He is certainly fat and jolly enough to be fit to up to snuff and the characterization is most refreshing. I don't know when I have seen a thing that really possessed so much of real merit.

Harry Le Clair is another of the good things on the bill this week—the good things, by the way, being unusually plentiful. He gives some clever impersonations and is a good entertainer. The complete bill includes Kille, Inez Scott, the capers, eccentric dances, Frank Auman, a song, "Wrong Man," Frank Smith, head, "A Political Pith," Gene Reas, acrobats, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry.

Orphans Were Entertained.

Four hundred little girls at St. Mary's Orphan Asylum had a hot and cold Christmas yesterday. There was a large program, most of the numbers being by the children themselves, after which the girls were distributed. Miss M. J. Delivered an address.

No Performance by Duse at the Century Tonight

Owing to an accident to some of the scenery used in the production of "Francesca da Rimini," which necessitates ordering a new set from New York by wire, there will be no performance by Signora Duse at the Century Theater tonight. Tickets purchased for tonight will be exchanged at the Century box office for Thursday and Friday nights.

WEDDED WHILE THE HORSES RAN

MARRIAGE CEREMONY PERFORMED IN FLYING CAB.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
METROPOLIS, Ill., Dec. 30.—A most unusual and from the point of speed, record-breaking wedding occurred in this city Sunday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Everett Barnes and Miss Birch Lane of Princeton, Ky.

The wedding ceremony was performed in a cab by Judge Thomas Liggett, while the wedding party was being driven at breakneck speed to catch the southbound Illinois Central passenger.

The couple had eloped to Metropolis and arrived on the northbound passenger, which comes into Metropolis just 30 minutes ahead of the southbound. They hurried to a cab and informed the driver that they wanted to be married and return on the next train. He drove them to the residence of Judge Liggett and a messenger was at once dispatched for the license.

From some cause the messenger was delayed, and did not return with the necessary papers until just three minutes before train time. Accordingly the party was hurried into the cab together with the officiating gentleman, and while the driver was doing his best to make his horses reach the depot in time the ceremony which made the two young people man and wife was performed in the cab. Just as they stepped upon the station platform as man and wife the train pulled in, and they had just enough time to respond to the conductor's "All aboard."

Metropolis has been for many years a favorite Green for runaway Kentucky couples, but this wedding is the most unique ever known here.

I Will Cure You of RHEUMATISM

Ease No Money Is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism, and have treated more cases than any other physician. I think. For 16 years I made 300 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gave me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again, but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 16,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatism Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is only $3.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no names. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 200 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address: Dr. Shoop, Box 588, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald

"Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and, ultimately, baldness. After Prof. U. na of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbain's Herpicide. It alone of all other hair preparations kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Send 10c in stamps. # PRES. JORDAN TO ADDRESS TEACHERS

HEAD OF LELAND STANFORD TO SPEAK AT ODEON.

LOCAL PEDAGOGUES HOSTS

They Entertained Visitors at Reception and Art Display Last Night.

Missouri teachers were given a reception by the teachers of St. Louis in the High School building Monday evening. The corridors were decorated with wild smilax and boxes of smilax. On the stage were the violin and mandolin clubs of the High School, seated behind palms. In the classrooms were 50 graduates of the High School, who served frappe to the guests. The auditorium was decorated in red and green. On the stage were life-size statues of Minerva, Augustus Caesar and Sophocles, their whiteness contrasting well with the strong color of the plants and wreaths and the cornucopias of red.

On the second floor was a room that gave much pleasure to the guests. It contained original paintings of famous artists valued at $10,000. The collection was loaned by Principal Bryan of the High School from the homes of St. Louisans in order to give an opportunity to out-of-town teachers to see some of the best that St. Louis has in the way of art. The pictures covered the walls of the second floor. The artists represented were L'Hermite, De Keyser, Borrand, Linn, Hansler, Bougerau, Jansen, Loran, Delaunay, Mose, Bonheur, Shaw, Lynch, Joseph Lyndon Smith, Harbord, Mauve, Munkacey, Jules Breton, Marchette, Mayon, von Bremen, Lessing, Louise, Palmarol, Le Fèvre, Clays, C. J. Boycott, Neuhaus, Coomans, Sir Francis Leighton, Cam, Leloir, Edouard de Tall.

One of the pictures, by an unknown French artist, represented Washington shortly before his death. It showed a view of the first President much older than the one usually seen.

LOCAL TEACHERS RECEIVED.

Several of the pictures shown are valued at $10,000 each, others at $500, and a number at $500.

In the hall were 700 copies of famous pictures loaned to Mr. Bryan by dealers.

The St. Louis teachers, headed by Assistant Superintendent Ben F. Blewitt, received the guests in the club and the pictures, orchestra music added to the entertainment provided.

The evening committee, Superintendent E. H. Stroeter of Carrollton, Assistant Superintendent Ben Blewitt of St. Louis and Superintendent L. W. Rood of Caruthersville, assisted by W. F. Jamison of Macon and Principal Smith of St. Louis, enrolled 500 teachers before Monday evening.

Each teacher had the privilege of inviting a guest to the reception, so that thousands passed through the corridors and into the school rooms, which gave up their desks and other school appearances.

Tuesday evening the teachers will be addressed in the Odeon by David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University.

The attendance at the present meeting is more than twice that of any previous gathering.

Last year, at Kansas City, 551 teachers were enrolled. This year a banner is offered by the enrollment committee to the county whose teachers travel the greatest total number of miles to come to the meeting.

For that reason a record of the distance traveled by each teacher is taken by the enrollment committee. Monday the record of Pike and Audrain counties was high, as each had a large number of teachers present.

Tuesday morning was given over to the discussion of libraries, gardens and geography. Papers were read by F. M. Brunden of St. Louis, Louis Theiman of Caruthersville, Miss Hattie D. Sutton of Turle, Superintendent W. T. Harrison, Dean H. J. Waters of Columbia, W. J. Stevens of St. Louis, E. E. Dodd of Springfield and Dr. W. H. Black of Marshall.

Tuesday afternoon "The Press in Education" was discussed by H. A. Gass of Jefferson City, G. S. Johns of St. Louis, Walter Williams of Columbia and W. H. Lynch of Mountain Grove.

SOCIETY.

The entire clubhouse was thrown open for the occasion and elaborately decorated with smilax, roses and Christmas greens.

The hostesses received their guests in the reception room, which was a mass of greens and cut flowers.

Mrs. Orthwein was in a toilette of black silk, veiled in Brussels net and frills of satin ribbon, some exquisite rose-holly lace and diamond ornaments appeared on the bodice. Mrs. Everts was handsome in an import gown of white etamine with Venetian lace and touches of turquoise pearls velvet. The guests without hats were: Mrs. Max Orthwein, who appeared in pearl grey crepe with garniture of Arabesque lace and white chiffon; Mrs. W. L. Smith of Kansas City, in white ecru and lace over pale blue; and Mrs. Ralph Orthwein, in delicate black silk and chiffon.

The young girls assisting through the rooms were all in dainty gowns of white silk and organza. They were Misses Ruth Orthwein, Nellie Orthwein, Mable Strauss, Clemence Nulsen, Gertrude Purcell and Adele Everts.

The game was six-handed euchre and was played in the card rooms on the second floor. These rooms were trimmed effectively with trailing smilax over doors, windows and pictures.

The prizes were unusually handsome. The first a Venus Martin table; second, dozen Haviland china plates; third, silver pitcher; fourth, Tiffany glass vase; fifth, an asparagus fork; sixth, burnt wood waste basket; seventh, silver bon bon dish; eighth, terra cotta bust; ninth, handomely bound volumes of the First Violin.

About 200 guests were entertained. At the conclusion of the game a course luncheon was served. Among the guests were:

Misses—W. G. Chappell, Theo. Conrades, E. Brockman, John Schroers, Wm. F. Johnson, Chas. Gleditsch, H. C. Stiel, Hugo Stiel, Horace Ramsey, P. Moll, Henry Hartwick, Eddie Miller, H. Torrlach, Clara Whitmore, Philip Burg, Robert J. Goetz, C. A. Loewman, H. Woelmann.

One of the prettiest card parties of the holidays for the school girl set was given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Frederick W. Wind for her pretty daughter, Miss Marion Wind. The house was prettily decorated with quantities of Christmas greens and great clusters of American beauty roses. Hearts was the game, and the prizes were extremely pretty. Mrs. Wind, in a hand some gown of black silk and duchess lace, was assisted by her daughter, Miss Wind, who wore a gown of cream pink crepe in receiving and entertaining. Among the guests were:

Misses—Florence Longstrech, May Foster, Helen Johnson, Grace Decker, De. St. John, Helen Johnson, Grace Decker, De. St. John, Helen Johnson, Grace Decker, De. St. John.

NEWSPAPERS ARE SCHOOLS' ALLY

Prof. W. H. Lynch Uses Them as Textbooks.

Prof. W. H. Lynch, principal of the Mountain Grove, Mo., school, who is in St. Louis, attending the Missouri teachers' convention, has great faith in newspapers as educators. In his school he has an unique plan for making use of various journals. He subscribes to 70 newspapers, including one in Wright County, in which he lives. When asked to outline his methods of teaching his pupils the value of current publications, he said:

"I discovered some time ago that no textbook is equal to the newspapers as a means of disseminating actual and up-to-date knowledge in the schoolroom. History, geography, civil government, chemistry and the entire academic curriculum teach only a theory of the world and its facts. The real drama of life in varied forms is found in the newspapers.

"Every Friday morning I have my pupils devote time to reading newspapers. I have each one supplied with a journal, no two publications being the same.

"Each pupil is instructed to read but one article. After sufficient time has elapsed, the signal is given to stop reading. All papers are folded, and the pupils are required to tell the news they have been reading.

"I often quote something like this to my

The newspaper is agent for prosperity, a promoter of education, a promoter of enterprise, a promoter of the people.

"I could not read a word, and blind, I would take a new, have it thrown in at my gate, so to people passed my home they would that there lived a man interested welfare and upbuilding of the community. Our motto should be: 'The news and the public schools are the duty of the people.'"

MER COLUMN

Good right mallet of Robert Fitzsimmons, like the sword of the well-known party with the scales, no respecter of persons. It is no fish story, notwithstanding the fact that he has fallen on big and little alike, and falling generally results in a change of a vertical to a horizontal position on part of the recipient of the blow. Some associates of Fitzsimmons should remember this fact when arguing the former champion. It may save him a headache and the experience of one Mark Ball, who happens to be a brother-in-law of Fitz and also his theatrical manager.

Mr. Ball is a little man. He also has a strong voice. Yesterday, with the aid of a later and presuming on the former, he undertook to tell Robert the fact that Robert's personal reputation for veracity is a similar high plane with that of a Munchausen.

USED INTO FORGETFULNESS.

Then something passed before the eyes of Mr. Ball, after which he lapsed into forgetfulness. When he recovered he found that the tycoon had passed. He merely one of Fitz's playful methods of telling his auditor that he was mis- as to his personal and personal character.

Mr. Ball should profit by the lesson which teaches that when your voice is strong and your auditor is likewise, put a double wrap around your vocal chords.

POLICE AS REFEREES.

It is necessary to pick your man before you unobscure yourself on private and confidential topics.

observes that referees are not the only ones at loss to determine the difference in a prize fight and a boxing contest. Doctors, sheriffs and others appointed to represent law and order on the inside find the same difficulty in force experience.

The benefit of the latter we would say is only one way to judge any fight until it is over. You never tell at what moment a boxing contest degenerates into a vulgar, beastly brawl. The best plan is to patiently wait the knock-out comes—then you will know your position in the matter.

This happens, the best thing to do is to fight up and tell the referee that you will have to stop. You will have your duty and at the same time save yourself from possible error and judgment.

Officials have the right idea. Carter bout there last night natives of the state were at. Though the bout was hot they calmly bent their places to the spectators—that is to say a game came, and the affair was a success.

Dispute Was Over Question of Taking Munroe in Theatrical Troupe.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 30.—The most talked of subject here now is whether the Jeffries-Munroe four-round scrap of a few days ago was not a prearranged fiasco. Jack Munroe, it is said, will appear with the company as a counter attraction to Fitzsimmons and Jeffries. This circumstance is said to be responsible, with other things, for a split in the affairs of Manager Clark Ball and his combination.

Ball is brother-in-law of Fitzsimmons. Early yesterday morning, before leaving suite, Ball and Fitz had an argument over the signing of Munroe to go with the troupe, it is alleged, and the trouble culminated by Ball calling Fitz a liar.

Fitz retaliated by knocking Ball out. Beside this trouble Jeffries is not with the troupe, but is here in Helena blowing money on a vaudeville star, one of the De Moyer sister team.

Jeffries' refusal to join the troupe to the present time has upset all Ball's plans, and the show may be forced to quit the road if the various troubles are not adjusted.

Munroe has yet to make a public appearance with the troupe.

PUGILISTIC NOTES.

Tommy Cody and Eddie Toy, the Chicago scrappers who will go on in the preliminary and main events respectively at the West End Club Wednesday evening, are training together since the arrival of the former in the city. Road work and light sparring are the limit of the training of the two, both of whom are already on edge.

The preliminary for tomorrow night has been set to start at 8:30 o'clock, with the main event scheduled for 9:15.

Terry McGovern is not in my class," said Young Corbett. The occasion of the remark was a report to the effect that Terry would enter the lightweight division as soon as he had concluded his engagement with Young Corbett.

"Terry," continued Corbett, "has always been heavier than I, and with difficulty could get to the weight. I weigh 128 pounds now and by the time I am through training I expect to be a real featherweight and weigh less than 122 pounds."

"Terry really has no right to be a featherweight at all, as it is utterly impossible for him to fight at 122 pounds and win."

SHARKEY TRAINING.

Tom Sharkey began training yesterday by running 10 miles. The ancient relic now weighs nearly 300 pounds and will have to reduce to 180 before he is in his fighting form. Sharkey says it will be no trick at all for him to get around to his old form and when he does that Jeffries and Munroe will have to go slowly with him. Tommy Ryan, who made Jeffries great, may take hold of Jack Munroe and teach him the game.

Jimmy Britt, the California lightweight champion, has just been matched to fight Gus Gardner 30 rounds before the San Francisco Athletic Club March 12. Gardner is looked on as one of the promising lightweight in this country and if Britt is as good as he is quick as he did Frank Erne, he will be a wonder.

Tom Sharkey and "Kid" McCoy, who are running neck and neck for the title of the champion, both come to life again and claim they are ready to fight either Jimmy Britt or Jack Munroe, the big middleweight. They say they won't fight any one else but these two fighters.

Joe Bernstein and Joe Sullivan have at last been matched to fight. They have been secured by the matchmaker of the Criterion Athletic Club of Boston, to meet in a 12-round bout at 125 pounds on Dec. 31 for a purse of $500.

Steve Dornell, who has not fought for almost two years, will be seen again in the ring next Thursday night. On that night he will meet big Jim Jeffries, the California heavyweight, in a six-round bout at the opening boxing show of the East Boston A. A.

Another fight to be decided this week will be between "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Al Weing. Both are in the International A. C. of Port Arthur, N. S. W. After noon. The fight should be interesting while lasts, but it looks like a sure victory for the Philadelphia.

Andy Tekell, the English bantamweight, who arrived in this country recently, claiming the championship of England, is an Englishman. He holds the title of colored heavyweight champion of the world, will engage Jackson, the big California heavyweight, before the America Athletic Club of Chicago. That organization has offered him a $10,000 purse and a $5,000 bonus if he manages Martin, has already accepted it.

MAHER RETIRES.

Peter Maher, the champion of Ireland, is the latest fighter to announce his retirement from the ring. The defeat which Peter suffered at the hands of "Kid" Carter in Philadelphia recently is responsible for him quitting the roped arena forever. According to a personal friend he is worth about $300.

Joe Chornak, the California heavyweight, who has been fighting for 15 years, will not be short of money when he quits the ring. During his career as a professional fighter he has made $80,000 out of the battles which he has fought. He says that he has saved $25,000, which he has invested in real estate.

Benny Yanger and Tim Callahan will meet in a six-round bout Jan. 6 and it is likely that it will go the limit. Callahan's friends expect his cleverness will earn him the victory.

Joe Gans will engage in two fights on two successive nights. Gans will box Sieger a six-round bout before the Criterion Athletic Club of Boston on New Year's eve and on New Year's night he will tackle Gardner in a 20-round bout before the National Athletic Club of New Britain, Conn.

At least one boxing bill, and possibly two, will be introduced by an assemblyman of New York in the near future. This assemblyman says that his bill is such a good one that he feels confident it will pass both houses and be signed by Gov. Odell without delay.

MASCAGNI HAS AN AVENGER.

Woman Admirer Warns Manager Heard to Desist "Persecutions."

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Richard Heardi, former manager of Pietro Mascagni, the Italian composer, has made public a communication warning him to desist from the "persecution" of the maestro, and closed with the phrase "a word to the wise is sufficient." It was in a woman's handwriting and was dated Boston, Dec. 27, and posted at Back Bay station.

There will be an old-fashioned smoker at the St. Louis Republican club house, 521 North Vandewater avenue, this evening. Address will be made, colored jubilee singers will be heard and refreshments will be served.

Winter Eczema OR TETTER

It is only one of the many varieties of that tormenting skin disease called Eczema. It slumbers through the Summer and breaks out in winter. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin thickens and hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning are at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles leaving the skin raw and AND BLEEDS inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves no anything else applied to the surface can possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain.

It is the acids thrown off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness. S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood and system of all irritating substances and humors and does it promptly and effectively.

SSS

S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the unsightly eruption and sores heal, the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear. Our special book on Skin Diseases free.

GRAND AMERICAN SPORT

BIRD SLAUGHTER TO BE ABANDONED

Inanimate Targets Will Replace Pigeons in the Grand American.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 30.—The Grand American live bird shooting handicap, famous as the greatest shooting event of the kind in the world and for the slaughter of pigeons it entailed each year, is probably a thing of the past.

The Grand American this year will, it is announced, be at inanimate targets and will be held in this city next April. Secretary Shaner of New York will be in this city Jan. 5 to make arrangements for the big event.

General opposition to the killing of pigeons was encountered by the shooters after each holding of the Grand American. The protest was so loud after the last one, held here last April, when the feathers of the slaughtered birds "made a great noise" appear covered with snow," according to reports, that the event will probably never be repeated.

It is thought a continuance of the contest would provoke legislation that would stop even club and state championship live bird shooting.

A large entry list is anticipated for the target Grand American next spring.

TOMMY RYAN IS RICHEST OF PUGS

Kansas City Fighter's Bank Account Hovers Near $100,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—Tommy Ryan, the pugilist, sold his flat building at 1008 Locust street for $13,000 yesterday. This is the latest move in a series of fortunate investments in Kansas City real estate upon which Ryan has cleared $17,000 in the last two months.

Though the announcement of the sale was made in the name of Tommy Ryan, the property did not really belong to him. Tommy Ryan's property is all held by his wife. She is Mrs. Annie Youngs Ryan, who was a school teacher when she was wooed and won by the pugilist.

Ryan is wealthier than he is commonly thought to be. He is worth $100,000, and is probably the richest fighter in the world. When Ryan fought in London during the coronation exercises last summer he cleared $5000. When he defeated Carter at Erie last September his share was $7000.

When he sold his saloon here a month ago he made money. Ryan was drunk, and he sold his saloon because, as he said, "I ain't fitted for the business, and I don't like it, either."
